New Years Eve Day

New Years Eve Night

We moved to the Nags Head on December 17th 2001, so we are coming up to our own 10 year Anniversary

As such, this year, we want to re-open for bar service only after 9.30pm. Entry will be by complimentary ticket only and will be directed more towards an informal social evening that brings together many of the local community and regular customers who have supported us over the years. (A bit of food and music will also be provided)

New Years Day – Day

Turns out to be a Sunday, our menus therefore will remain as any other Sunday. Last orders for food service however will be 6.00pm

New Beer Supplier

Flowers Bitter has been our House Bitter for a very long time. Although it is possible for our new supplier to get Flowers IPA, the cost is likely to be significantly more. We will probably change over by the end of the month. If you have any strong views on this please let us know.

Debbie's Column

Issue No 11

Back from our hols. While we were away we completed a lot of the restoration and are on target to have it rentable after our next visit. Because of Karl's baby due in February I don't think we will make it back to the States till after Easter. We have decided though to look into the option of renting it for holiday lets rather than finding a long term renter. Give you more on that again.

I am really looking forward to the next 6 months, many of the ideas we have come up with, should now be put into operation.

We have a hearing date for our rates which is set for Monday 21st November; it was in the March newsletter when I first mentioned that we put in an appeal, 9 months ago.....But I will remain calm.....for now.....

Thanks as always.....Debbie

CLOSED

FOR INTERNAL PAINTING

As part of the Nags Head facelift,

Our Bar is having a new coat paint and varnish.

We have decided it best to close while this is being done. The dates will be as first thought but only closing after lunchtime service on Tuesday 2nd and reopening for Friday Night 4th January 2012. All other areas to be painted will be done either side of this date, but will NOT require us to stop service.

NEW

A WEB SITEChange!!!

Our Web site www.ournagshead.co.uk is having a new page added

"BUY IT NOW"

This should be operational by Mid October. Initially it is being set up to allow the purchase of GIFT VOUCHERS through any Debit / Charge card or Pay Pal.

NEW STAFF

Amy – Is settling in nicely, she is feeling far more relaxed and comfortable. She will start taking more food orders now, so as most of you are far more qualified than she, I'm sure you will help her along.

OCTOBER PLANS

Carpet fitter is booked for the 24th October. A sample of our selected Carpet is displayed in Reception. (A Bold but exciting choice –) along with our upholstery chosen for the chairs.

Rory's is attending a 2 day upholstery course the first week in October. Then he will attempt to change over the chairs upholstery prior to the new carpet being laid.

He is a glutton for punishment.

Scaffolding came Down

While we were away on holiday. Alan finished off the lower half and so now it all looks so much better. Once again we feel that the building, externally at least is back up to standard.
